FRANCE ACCEPTS PROGRAM FOR NAVAL RATIO

Wall Street Now Threatened By Another Bomb Explosion

BRIAND SAYS NATION WILLING TO ABIDE BY DECISION OF OTHERS

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 19.—France will accept the original naval ratio as laid down by Secretary Hughes at the Washington conference, Premier Briand informed Ambassador Harvey here last night. He authorized the ambassador to notify the American government to that effect.

Although Briand's authorization, which had already been conveyed to the French delegation at Washington and to the American state department, makes no mention of submarines, there is reason to believe the French proposals regarding undersea craft were discussed by Briand and Harvey. It is blated that the French may have more to say on the subject.

PARIS, Dec. 19.—Dispatches from London to the semi-official Havas agency said Briand informed Harvey that France accepted the Hughes proposals concerning capital ship tonnage as follows: United States, 35,000 tons; Japan, 20,000 tons; France, 17,000 tons; Italy, 16,000 tons.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Unofficial advices from London to Paris said France had accepted the naval ratio proposed for her by the American government created something of a sensation in arms conference circles because the development generally was interpreted as marking one of the longest steps thus far taken toward the naval reduction agreement.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Premier Briand has advised the French delegation to go as far toward accepting the American naval proposal as can be done without sacrificing the essential interests of the French government. As described in French circles, the new instructions do not direct any definite acceptance of the ratio as proposed by the American government.

DEVALERA HAS SUBSTITUTE TO OFFER DAIL

(By Associated Press)
DUBLIN, Dec. 19.—The Dail Eireann, which met shortly before noon today, and began the consideration for and against the ratification of the Anglo-Irish treaty, adjourned at 1 o'clock to 2:30 p. m. There was every indication that the speech making would continue through tomorrow.

An interesting feature of the first session was the disclosure that De Valera, the republican president, had submitted to last week's private meeting of the Dail an alternative proposal to an agreement signed in London. He explained he had done this to secure unanimity in the Dail.

LEASERS AT ROYSTON ARE PROSPERING

Royston is entering the intensive development stage, according to the observations of an old timer who has been watching operations for the last two months. "The Hudson Mining company," he remarked this morning, "started Saturday to take out the light equipment from its 100 foot incline shaft, preparatory to placing its new 25 h. p. hoist and new headframe with the intention of sinking to the 600 level. New 20-pound rails will take the place of the old ones to permit of operating heavier skips."

"The Butts lease has started its lateral work while stopping from its glory hole, and the parties interested are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the new hoist which is expected any day, and which will be installed immediately. The Super Six Mining company is sinking on its mammoth Frisco ledge, going down on the footwall and following the ore. The contents of every bucket lifted goes into the ore bin."

"Perhaps the biggest and best showing for quantity and quality is the Ben Hur property in the south end of the district. Owing to the intense development that is going forward, here is shown the greatest amount of shipping ore of any property in the district, and it will, no doubt, enter the shipping list within the next month, with a large tonnage. This property is truly the show place of the district with its 4-foot vein showing so strong and well defined between walls and carrying all the radiant colors of precious metals so well known to the metallurgist. Very little assaying is needed on this ledge, the careful sampling of which has proven it to be of very high grade character."

"There are a dozen other places in the district that will undoubtedly prove as big and sensational with the same amount of prudent development. Royston is a poor man's camp and a rich man's paradise. Never before has the oldest prospector found an area of such rich surface showings, and in no place of the mining regions is there such an opportunity for capital to reap such rich and quick returns for money expended. Two good men who know ore when they see it could make a good winter's stake by gathering up rich float from the hillsides. All they need is a sack and strong back to make their 'homestake.'"

HERE FROM RENO
Dr. Francis C. Lincoln, director of the Mackay School of Mines, and Dr. S. C. Lind, superintendent of the U. S. Before coming to Tonopah, Dr. Lind spent some time inspecting the mines and mills at Mina and before returning to the station will spend a few days at Goodsprings. Dr. Lincoln will return direct to Reno.

Blackwell, of Carson, Grand Chancellor of the Domain of Nevada of the order of the Knights of Pythias, arrived in Tonopah this morning and will pay his official visit this evening to Mizpah Lodge, No. 25, K. of P. All members and visiting brothers are urged to be present. After the meeting refreshments will be served in the club rooms.

VIEWS TAKEN OF MINES WILL ADVERTISE US

After spending the past two weeks in Tonopah and vicinity, where his camera has been more than busy, W. N. Fox, cinematographer for both the Nevada-California Power company and the Educational Film company, will leave today for his home in Los Angeles, accompanied by his wife and two children.

In addition to the film "Kilowatt, the Conqueror," which Mr. Fox has completed for the power company, showing the origin, progress and accomplishments of water-power electric transmission over the lines of the Nevada-California company, Mr. Fox has filmed a five-reel picture which has as yet not been named, but which will depict the silver mining industry in all its phases.

Starting with the surface workings at Royston he filmed the work being done at the silver camp in its earliest stages, then changes to the next stages of the industry as the development on a larger scale is reached. The Tonopah Belmont Development property has been pictured in its entirety, and every detail of operations from the time the drill makes its hole until the completed product leaves the mill has been photographed. Yesterday he took the movies of the process of pouring the silver bullion, the last stage of the operations.

"The picture represents the most comprehensive view of the silver industry that has ever been taken," said Mr. Fox this morning, "and it should do much towards advertising Tonopah and the state of Nevada in general. Too many people have come to the conclusion that all mines are promotion propositions only, and they do not realize that the actual metal comes from them. Those that do have no idea how it is taken out nor the process by which the ore becomes the metal that they see and use in the finished state."

"This picture of the silver industry will be released through the Educational Film company, the largest distributors of educational pictures in the country. It will be shown in every section of the United States, where today, there is more demand for pictures of that character than there is of the picture that is merely entertaining. The educational films combine both features and this one in particular, owing to the interest that is being taken in mining will undoubtedly prove popular and a big boost not only for the industry but for the state of Nevada and Tonopah as well."

AUTO USED FOR POWER IN WORKING MINE

Larry Shaw, Wm. (Shorty) Davis and William Case, who have been driving a tunnel into Tin Mountain for the Tin Mountain Mining company, arrived in Tonopah last night to remain until after the holidays. They report fair progress in the advance of the crosscut that is being driven to intersect the series of veins, although the ground is exceptionally hard.

A few weeks ago a small compressor was taken to the seat of operations, and the power for operating the drills is secured from the engine of an Apperson car. Everything is working smoothly, according to the contractors and they expect to complete the first 150 feet of driving within two weeks after they resume operations.

WILL CROSSCUT TO PICK UP VEIN

The shaft on the Grant lease of the Little Billie claim at Royston has attained a depth of 35 feet, and while vein matter is still in evidence the values are not high. In fact, the ore vein was left on the footwall, and the hanging wall is still in evidence, but in view of the fact that the shaft is vertical it is possible the vein may be left at any time. It is the intention of Chris and Jack Grant to sink to a depth of 50 feet when crosscutting will be started to the west to pick up the vein, and in view of the fact that ore was followed to a depth of 16 feet it is believed the shoot will be found to be continuous at the 50-foot point.

(By Associated Press)

MINES BUREAU MEN HAVE GOOD SUCCESS

Dr. C. E. Kindall, and Thomas Jones, of the United States Bureau of Mines, arrived at Reno last night after a trip to Tonopah. Jones, who was in Tonopah this morning after a successful two weeks' visit in Tonopah investigating and examining the mines of the district for fuel purposes. Almost 150 men were examined during the time the officials were here, and so great has been the demand for their services that it was impossible to examine all of the men who desired to have the bureau look them over. More than forty have signed their desire to have the examinations made in January when Dr. Kindall will return to Tonopah to complete his work. The announcement of the return trip of the doctor will be made in the columns of this paper.

NORTHERN STORMS EXTEND TO TONOPAH

Below zero weather of the northern Rocky Mountain states is reflected in the storm that visited Tonopah yesterday and continued throughout most of today. Sunday morning the barometer here took a sudden drop and fluctuated back and forth most of the day. There was some snow on the ground last night but it had disappeared this morning and considerable rain followed it today. A rise in temperature was the cause for the change. Thirty below is reported for British Columbia, the coldest weather of the winter so far.

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Wall Street's principal financial institutions are being guarded by reinforced details of police and private detectives in anticipation of another bomb explosion, the warning of which was sent to a broker in the district advising him to leave town on the vicinity of the stock exchange. The police, however, are inclined to treat the anonymous prediction with skepticism but the extra precautions are taken in view of the statement of Walter Lindbergh, arrested in Warsaw in connection with the Wall Street catastrophe of September 1920.

BOLSHEVIKS INVOLVED IN BOMB PLOTS

WARSAW, Dec. 18.—According to an affidavit, which is said to have been obtained at Warsaw, evidence is shown in connection with the Wall Street explosion, Lindbergh has made a statement to the effect that when he was in Moscow last August he talked with Lenin and Trotsky with reference to two explosions and J. Lindbergh says the affidavit adds that Lindbergh obtained a signed statement of the third international when the explosion was discussed and he heard the talk of plans for further bombings in America. Lindbergh says Lindbergh would be willing to go to the place as mentioned for examination in America if he will be permitted to reach the United States. He says Lindbergh had agreed to let the entire bomb details as he described the bomb plot in Moscow, including additional plans to kill Morgan.
